our story

The Greg Dollgener Memorial AIDS Fund was named in honor of our friend who died of AIDS in 1994. Despite his personal devastation by HIV, Greg taught us all strength and courage through volunteering at various AIDS organizations and helping those less fortunate than himself.

Today, our all-volunteer, 501(c)(3) organization carries on those efforts through fund-raising and assistance in his memory and honor.

We work through various AIDS Services Organizations to provide financial assistance of last resort to those with HIV/AIDS in ways that agencies are unable.

"The Fund means "life" to our clients and it's often the only and last resort of assistance our case managers have to help someone through a crisis."

--Raeline Nobles, Exec. Dir., AIDS Arms, Inc.

living with AIDS is hard enough

Since 1996, we have assisted over 1,500 clients and disbursed more than $300,000 to meet needs such as rent, medication co-pays, rent and utility deposits, and emergency payments to avoid loss of utilities.

Most of our clients are on Social Security programs and living on low, fixed incomes. For them, life's unexpected emergencies can be catastrophic and lead to homelessness.

"Thank you very much for the check for my rent. It is nice to know there are kind people like you in this big world."

-R.S. AIDS Arms Client

"Our client was to be evicted until your group came to his rescue with money for back rent."

-Soheila Winzer, ASNT

GDMAF works solely through AIDS service programs such as AIDS Arms, ASNT (AIDS Services of North Texas), the Resource Center of Dallas and Welcome House. Case managers screen clients and submit applications for assistance on their behalf.

Each application is reviewed on a case-by-case basis with assistance going to those with the greatest immediate need, funding permitting.

"Thank you for all you do for our clients."

-Marsha Jackson, Welcome House

we need your help!

We are changing and improving lives one person at a time. Through fund-raising efforts and private donations, GDMAF is helping individuals living with HIV/AIDS manage their unexpected emergencies.

We do our best to ensure funding assists those with the greatest need, but requests for assistance outpace funding. Our annual event, MetroBall, is our signature fund-raising extravaganza and proceeds directly benefit clients.
